

The War

The most needed virtuous deed for human beings is self recognition. Real austerity for human beings is to control the senses. But it can be made possible only when human beings recognize their weaknesses. There is always a fight going on within us between the gods & demons. The demons look for the weaker habits in one's nature and attack. Sorrow, lust, anger and so many others can be weaker habits in various types of human beings. Those who don't recognize themselves are also unable to recognize their weaknesses and thus can't control their senses.

One is supposed to follow the religion for the sake of religion and not for the sake of rituals. The main aim of human life should not be to achieve worldly pleasure. The essence of religion is to keep oneself free from all types of bondages. The human life, on every moment is a war; a fight is going on between divine forces and evil forces. In this war, sometimes evil forces attack in the form of problems and sometimes in some other way. But no one should ever deviate from the path of virtuous deeds.
